A Quarter of a Century

On this occasion, the twenty-fifth anniversary of High Point College, we take time out for a backward glance through the eyes of the original faculty members who are still with the college. . .

Dean Percy E. Lindley: "The first quarter century at High Point College has been a time of pioneering, adventure, and reward. Self-sacrifice and deep loyalty laid the foundations of the institution; and we must still keep faith with the founders, who, in fidelity to a grand vision, bequeathed to us this tangible and living privilege for culture and Christian service."

Professor Alice Paige White: "I wish to comment particularly on the development of the college grounds. When the college first opened its doors to students, it rained every day for two or three weeks in succession. The campus was a sea of red mud; we walked on planks from one building to another. There was neither grass nor shubbery on the grounds at that time. I think Mr. Gunn, who supervised the landscaping, deserves much credit for the beautification of the campus. A beautiful campus is something in which a college takes pride."

Professor E. Vera Idol: "From its beginning I have watched High Point College grow step by step to its present status, and have had a happy and busy part in its development. My interest has been from two points of view. A native High Pointer, I had a vision of the cultural service the college would bring to my native city; as an integral part of the college itself, I fixed my sights on the future, when High Point College would reach the high place among the colleges of the state and nation that was in the hearts and minds of its founders when they launched the campaign for its establishment. The twenty-five years here have been for me busy, happy ones."

Professor J. Hobart Allred: "The first chapter of the history of High Point College cannot be written. Known but to a few, it is a spirit born of and made sacred by courage, sacrifice, and struggle for existence. When that spirit dies, the final chapter will be recorded."

Professor J. Harley Mourane: "The past twenty-five years have been interesting, sometimes exciting, sometimes trying, but always stimulating. I consider it a rare privilege and a unique, outstanding experience to be among those who have started a college."

SIDELIGHTS

Dr. N. M. Harrison, formerly vice-president of the college, designed the college seal before the institution opened for business. The seal bears appropriate symbolism and the college motto—Nil Sine Numine: Nothing Without Divine Light.

Mrs. C. L. Whitaker, Housemother of Woman's Hall, has been with the college from its beginning. Mrs. Whitaker has seen many young women come and go during the past twenty-five years.

Ed White, college fireman and handyman, and George, the cook, also have been with the college for the entire quarter century. George has dished up food to many a nostalgic freshman. Ed White continues to entertain the boys on the campus with an interesting fund of stories.

Professor H. E. Coble, of the Department of Education, was the first member of the Class of 1927 to receive a degree. Thus he became the first graduate of the college. It was he who gave the college annual its appropriate name. On the occasion of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the institution, Professor Coble says, "The completion of its first quarter century of service finds High Point College with its peak enrollment and an ever-expanding influence undreamed of by the founding fathers. The ideals and aspirations, given impetus twenty-five years ago and nurtured through the years, have reached fruition. With the difficult years behind us and with tradition to sustain us, we can look forward to greater service in the years that lie ahead."

High Point College graduates have made names for themselves in all fields of endeavor. Several have returned as administrative officers and faculty members—Louise Adams, Associate Professor of Mathematics; Herman E. Coble, Associate Professor of Education; William Faircloth, Assistant Coach; C. Reginald Hinshaw, Jr., Assistant Professor of History; John W. Farlow, Instructor in Business Administration; Richard A. Short, Bursar and Graduate Manager of Athletics; Henry I. Ridenhour, Counsellor for Men; Mrs. Henry I. Ridenhour, Assistant Librarian.

To Dr. J. E. Pritchard, a stalwart Christian, for many years an outstanding leader in Methodism, the only living member of the original committee that campaigned for funds to establish High Point College; and to Dean Percy E. Lindley, Professor Alice Paige White, Professor E. Vera Idol, Professor J. Hobart Allred, and Professor J. Harley Mourane, faculty members of High Point College from its beginning twenty-five years ago, whose service to the college and to the community through character, leadership, and professional ability cannot be measured by material standards, the staff appreciatively dedicates the 1949 ZENITH.

THE GROWTH OF OUR COLLEGE

The year 1949 is a milestone in the history of High Point College. It marks the twenty-fifth anniversary of the institution. Though comparatively young as institutions of higher learning go, High Point College has shown remarkable growth in its first quarter century of existence.

High Point College began as the dream of Rev. J. F. McCulloch, a native of Guilford County, who attended Adrian College, Adrian, Michigan. After a few years of teaching, Dr. McCulloch returned to North Carolina with the conviction that the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church should establish a college in the state. Attending the annual conference at LaGrange in 1893, he presented his proposal in such a convincing manner that a Committee on Ways and Means was appointed to explore the possibilities of building an institution of higher learning. The Methodist Protestant Church, however, did not feel the need of a college, thus nullifying the work of the committee. Undaunted, Dr. McCulloch established Our Church Record, later renamed The Methodist Protestant Herald, to transmit his views to the homes of members of the church.

After many years of agitation, personal solicitation, and many disappointments, the campaign began to bear fruit. Mr. J. C. Roberts, a Methodist Protestant layman of Kernersville, N. C., provided in his will a gift of $10,000, if the college should be ready to open by 1920; otherwise, the sum was to be used as an invested fund, the interest on which was to aid worthy young men preparing for the ministry. The legacy, though it never materialized because of the time limitation, stimulated considerable interest; and when the college was finally built, the administration building was named in honor of Mr. Roberts.

The next step forward was taken in 1920. Dr. R. M. Andrews, President of the North Carolina Annual Conference, urged that the church either take action on the matter of building the college or abandon the project altogether. The conference appointed a College Committee, composed of Dr. Andrews, Rev. L. W. Gerringer, and Rev. J. E. Pritchard, who were to campaign for funds in the churches of the North Carolina district. Aware of the increasing interest in the educational enterprise, Mr. J. Norman Wills, a son and grandson of Methodist Protestant ministers and an active layman in the church, offered to donate $100,000 (on condition that the College Committee should obtain $300,000) by the end of 1920. The time limit was subsequently extended by Mr. Wills, but, owing to a post-war business slump, the committee secured only $241,000. However, with this sum as a basis, the campaigners pressed forward. They submitted a proposition to several cities in the Piedmont area: if a city should offer an acceptable building site and $100,000, the College Committee would consider establishing the college in that city. Burlington, Greensboro, and High Point met the terms of the proposition; the High Point location was chosen.

A Building Committee consisting of Dr. F. R. Harris, Dr. J. F. McCulloch, Dr. R. M. Andrews, Mr. R. F. Williams, Mr. J. Norman Wills, Mr. R. H. Brooks, and Mr. J. S. Pickett was appointed. Mr. Herbert B. Hunter was engaged as architect; and he, accompanied by Dr. Andrews and Mr. Wills, visited a number of colleges and universities. After a thorough investigation, they recommended to the Building Committee that the colonial style of architecture be employed.

The cornerstone of Roberts Hall was laid on June 29, 1922; the building was completed during the ensuing autumn. McCulloch Hall, a dormitory for boys, and Woman's Hall, a dormitory for girls, were not completed until September, 1924. With Dr. R. M. Andrews as president, High Point College opened its doors to one hundred and thirty-two students, of whom fifteen were sophomore transfers from other institutions, on September 15, 1924.

The Class of 1927, the first graduating class, consisted of thirteen members. In that year nineteen members made up the administrative staff and faculty. Of the original faculty, five members—Dean P. E. Lindley, Professor Alice Paige White, Professor E. Vera Idol, Professor J. Hobart Allred, and Professor J. Harley Mourane—are still with the college. In 1928, the administrative staff and faculty numbered twenty-five, and the Class of 1928 consisted of forty-five graduates.

Upon the resignation of Dr. Andrews in 1930, the Board of Trustees selected Rev. Gideon I. Humphreys to fill the presidency of the college. Dr. Humphreys was well qualified for the position, having served as President of the General Board of Christian Education from 1924 to 1930. By virtue of his service on the board, he was in close contact with the educational program of the denomination. Dr. Humphreys assumed his duties as president of the college in June, 1930.

The years from 1930 onward have constituted a period of steady expansion. Harrison Gymnasium, completed in 1933, was named in honor of Dr. N. M. Harrison, whose persistent efforts in obtaining donations of materials and money resulted in the building. Four residences were purchased—the president's home (1931), a professor's home (1937), a home economics house (1939), and an additional professor's home (1942). The M. J. Wrenn Memorial Library, erected in 1937, was presented to the college by Mrs. M. J. Wrenn as a memorial to her deceased husband. Albion Millis Stadium was completed in 1938; and the baseball field, a year later. Additional rooms on the third floor of Woman's Hall were built in 1937; and in 1943-44, more housing space was prepared in McCulloch Hall. The field house, located at Albion Millis Stadium, was the gift of the American Business Club of High Point in 1947. During this period, the campus was neatly landscaped, concrete walks were laid, and the main road into the campus was given a hard surface.

A consolidation of the orphanage work of the Western North Carolina Conference was brought about by Methodist Union. As a result of this consolidation, the Board of Trustees of the Children's Home of the (former) Methodist Protestant Church decided to the college the property located one mile northeast of the main campus. This property consists of approximately ten acres of land and three principal buildings—J. M. Millikan Hall, a dormitory for married veterans, Penny Hall, a dormitory for young women, and B. N. Duke Cottage, to be used as a faculty residence.

In addition to the construction and acquisition of new buildings, the original academic departments were enlarged and new ones were added. Much new equipment was obtained for instructional purposes.

The size of the student body increased as the instructional facilities were expanded. The Class of 1940 consisted of eighty-one graduates. In that year the administrative staff and faculty numbered thirty-six. During the early part of World War II, the college, along with all other educational institutions, witnessed a decrease in the number of students enrolled. But when large numbers of veterans began to take advantage of their educational opportunities in 1945-46, High Point College received its share of enrollees. The college went all out in its efforts to admit as many qualified applicants as possible.

Today, High Point College is literally bursting at the seams. There are two hundred and thirty-one members of the senior class. The total enrollment is perhaps larger than the founders dreamed it would ever be. The college is to be commended for having adjusted itself without loss of poise to the increased demand for higher learning. With a quarter century of remarkable growth behind it, High Point College bravely looks forward to a glorious future.

SENIOR CLASS

WE ARE THE SENIORS. Ours is the past at High Point College—no longer the future. Never again during summer vacations will we dream about another year to spend at our school—dances to be attended . . . games to be won . . . studying to be done . . . time to be passed in friendly and fraternal conversation. We had a past, present, and future at H.P.C. Now, we only have a past; but we will reminisce in that past . . . we will remember.

JUNIOR CLASS

WE ARE THE JUNIORS. Like our older brothers, we have a past at High Point College; but, unlike them, we have a present and a future—another year. During this summer, we will dream about and plan for this remaining year at our college . . . we will make this our greatest and most enjoyable one.

------------------	-------------------

A group of students from the junior class are elected each year by the faculty to serve as college marshals. They are elected on the basis of character, appearance, dependability, and scholarship. To be elected marshal is one of the highest honors bestowed on students at High Point College.

The duties of the marshals are to serve at concerts, lectures, chapel programs, commencement exercises, and all college functions.

These eleven marshals of 1948-49 are to be commended for the way in which they have carried out their duties and upheld the standards upon which they were chosen.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

To our Student Government Association, which was first organized in 1933, we owe and express our appreciation for the many successful parties and dances that have made our sometimes monotonous lives richer in fun, in excitement, and in fellowship with each other.

With J. C. McAllister's capable leadership as president and the other officers—the vice-president, the secretary-treasurer, one representative from each class, the presidents of the dormitory and day student councils—the Student Government has experienced another notable year as the promoter of the political and social welfare of the students at High Point College.

Among the outstanding events sponsored by this organization this year were the Homecoming parade and dance, the Annual Christmas dance, the Spring Formal, the practical parking regulations, and the new bulletin boards located at either end of the hall in the Administration Building.

THE ZENITH

JACKSIE MILLER CUMBY
Editor-in-Chief

JANE MATTHEWS
Associate Editor

This, your 1949 ZENITH, we happily and humbly give to you. We do hope that you will feel toward this book a similar affection to that which we have for it—that would perhaps justify in our hearts and minds the sleep lost, classes missed, tests flunked, parties and Christmas vacation forfeited, and the like, which we endured in order to bring you this Twenty-Fifth Anniversary copy of The ZENITH.

Being the twenty-third edition this year, the ZENITH, as High Point College is today, will be celebrating its Twenty-Fifth Anniversary two years hence. The first edition of the ZENITH was published in 1927. The very first assistant editor of that book was our good friend and professor, H. E. Coble, or "HEC", as he was called in those days. Prof. Coble also gave the annual its name, as has been mentioned on page 4.

The ZENITH has grown in comparison with the college. Quite often, editions have stood out as exceptionally fine books—for example, the 1940 ZENITH. Reginald Hinshaw, Jr. edited this edition, which was done up in a lush green color—both exterior and interior—with good photographs and accurate, as well as easily comprehensible, copy.

In 1945, even with the war and its subsequent troubles—lack of paper, supplies, photographers, money—plus a fire at the printer's and the burning of most of ZENITH photographs, copy, and the like, the class put out an excellent annual. Mig Koontz and Dee Taussig were the co-editors. Today, Dee Taussig is the editor of a national college magazine—her own business venture. She is another ZENITH editor who has proved her talents and abilities further.

The ZENITH staff, besides the two top editors and business managers for this year included Addison Bar-

Miss E. Vera Idol, Faculty Adviser, must be remembered, since without her patient understanding and kind advice, this book would never have become a reality.

To those innumerable persons who have aided in any possible degree the publishing of this annual, we do thank you from the bottom of our hearts: to our instructors for not questioning us when we were absent from classes for days or even weeks at a time—we are deeply pleased that you have trusted us in this way . . . to the faculty and staff for not objecting when you were asked to have new photographs taken and when we had to beg of you personal favors to which you readily complied . . . to the many students who have either intentionally or unintentionally helped us . . . to the night watchman . . . to the maids . . . to Mr. Oliver Smith of Edwards and Broughton . . . to Mr. Harry Porreca and Mr. Lane Atkinson of Zecca Studio—to all of you kind people, we repeat, “Thanks ever so much!”

THE HI-PO

The Hi-Po was first printed in 1926; and since then, it has had a long and varying history. In the very capable hands of Henry Maddux, Editor, Bill Gabriel, Associate Editor, and Madolyn Goodwin and Bill Marley, Business Managers, The Hi-Po this year has conveyed to the letter its twenty-four year old two-fold aim:

to present impartially all views of student interest, and to drive, editorially, for a better H. P. C.

Other Hi-Po staff members are Percy Payne and Bill Woodruff, Feature Editors; Joanne Brown, Circulation Manager; Luce King, Betty Rader, and Betty J. Gibbs, News Staff; and Dot Montgomery and Jo Baker, Business Staff.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

Future Teachers of America is a superior name, composed of three imposing ideas. The "Future" belongs to youth and is full of hope, opportunity, and promise for those who prepare themselves for it. "Teachers" are the builders of civilization! "America" is peculiarly the home of the Future and of the Teacher; it gives a higher place to the teacher than any other country in the world.

The F.T.A. movement is the outgrowth of years of effort on the part of the National Education Association and of various state education associations to quicken the interest of young people in the professional side of their education careers. The F.T.A. is the only organization for active participation in both state and national associations with which they will be associated during their professional careers.

The unique importance of being a member of a college chapter of Future Teachers of America is in the fact that it is not a blind-alley organization, having little or no significance after the student finishes college, but is an important part of the great state and national education associations, which for nearly a century have been the prime moving forces in the development of American education.

The Calvin H. Wiley Chapter of the F.T.A. was organized in 1942. Because the late Calvin H. Wiley was the first Superintendent of Public Schools in North Carolina, the High Point College chapter adopted his name. Prof. H. E. Coble was, and still is, faculty adviser of the organization. Present officers are Bill Kale, president; James F. Brewer, vice-president; and Mary Whitely, secretary-treasurer.

Miss Elizabeth LaRoche Taylor, an ardent devotee of drama, took over this particular department upon her arrival at High Point College in the fall of 1946. With extremely capable hands, she transformed and molded this long-inactive division into a thriving and hard-working unit of college life—the Tower Players.

This dramatic organization derived its name from the workshop—the tower in Roberts Hall. There, at any time of the day, especially when play-night draws near, and until twelve or later into the morning, Tower Players may be heard hammering, hacking, sawing, and rehearsing simultaneously.

Among the several plays given by the Tower Players, "Claudia," featuring Carolyn Hinson as Claudia, "The Drunkard," with Otis Chapman, and "Alice in Wonderland," starring Frances Cameron as Alice, are the most outstanding. Miss Taylor herself designs the scenery and costumes for these performances, except when it is necessary to order them from Philadelphia and other places. The Tower Players do the constructional work.

FOOTBALL

A SEASONAL SKETCH

The North Carolina intercollegiate football season was initiated in September of 1948 by High Point College and the Jayvees of the University of North Carolina. These Tar Heels bucked mightily against a solid parade of purple power as the pugnacious Panthers of H. P. pulled a 7-7 tie from the game. Bill Lloyd, unanimous choice as all-conference fullback, plowed eight yards through the middle of the North Carolina line in the fourth quarter to score the only Panther touchdown.

On September 19, the Catamounts from W.C.T.C. turned back three futile Panther touchdown threats to eke out a 7-6 win. Albert "Face" Evans, Panther tailback, scored on the last play of the game. His try for the extra point was blocked.

High Point College came back from its first loss to triumph over the Norfolk Navy team on September 25—41-0—with Hugh Gordon running from every position in the backfield, scoring two touchdowns and picking up 140 yards.

The night of October 2, High Point lost to the powerful Indians of Catawba, who, taking advantage of the Panthers' weak spots, finalized with a win of 28-7.

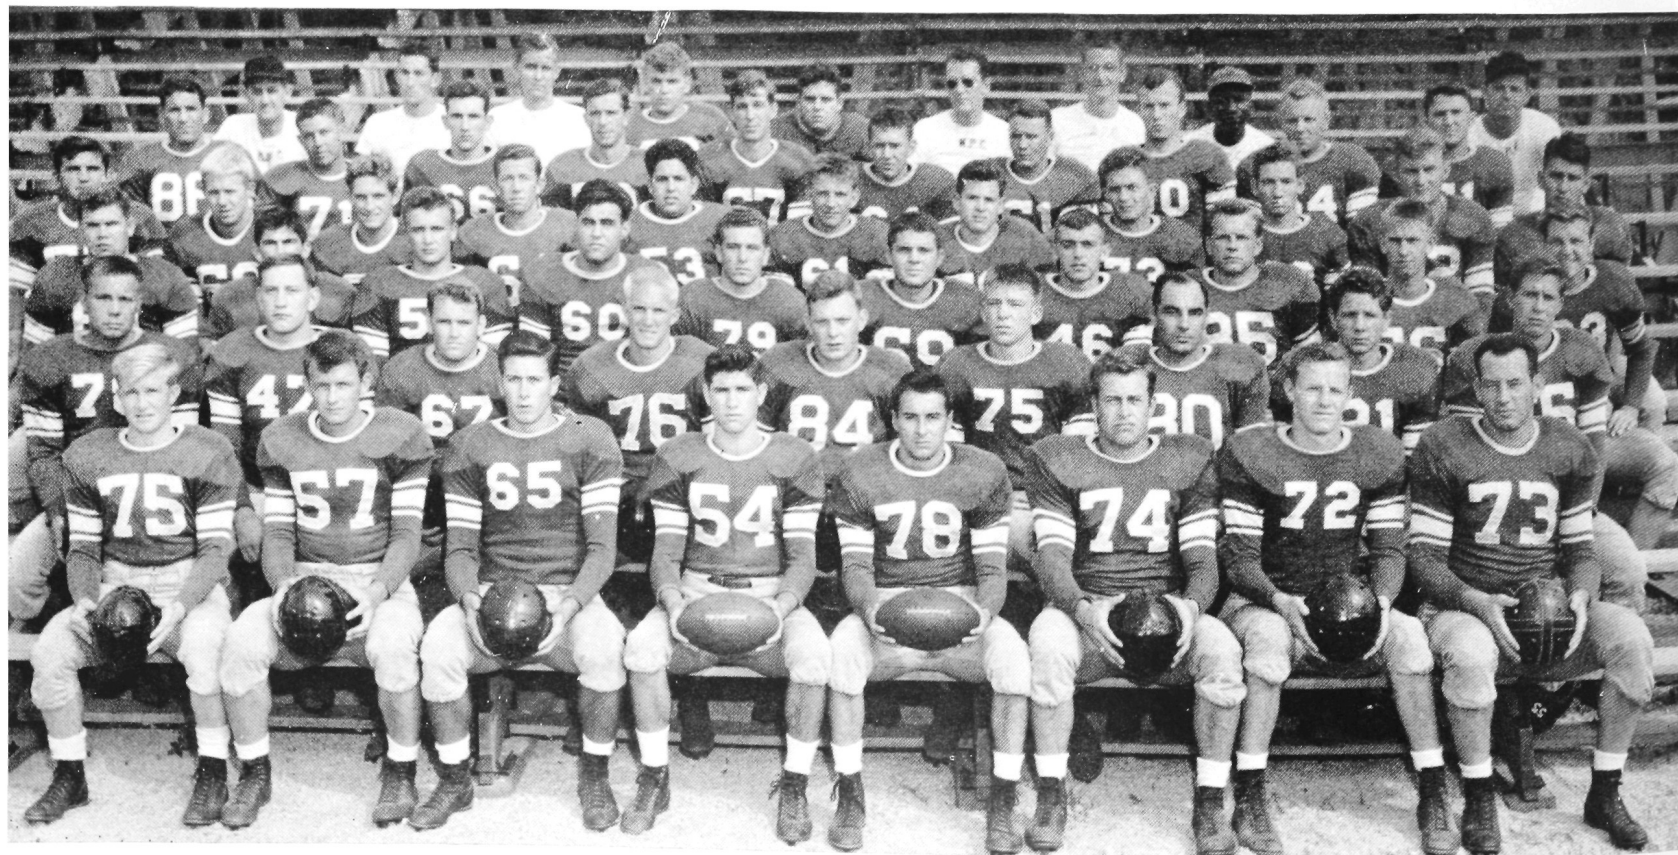

Returning to their home lair, the Purple Panthers made up for the loss of the previous game by walloping over the Atlantic Christians—47-7. It was in this game that the able little Curt McDonald broke his ankle.

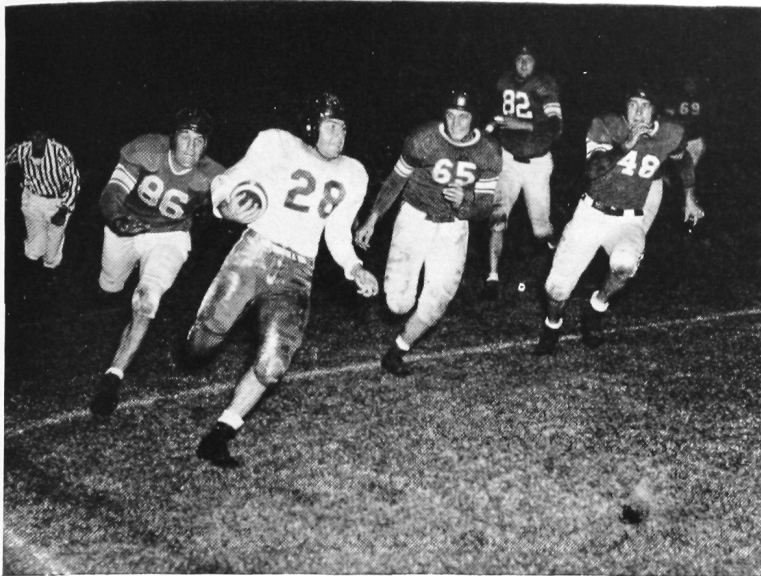

On the ninth of October, Hugh Gordon raced thirty-three yards to score the only touchdown of the night and give the Panthers a hard earned 6-0 victory over the Bears of Lenoir Rhyne.

The Panthers received their worst defeat of the season from Appalachian—a 41-14 defeat. Norman Harris, leading blocking-back, made his one seasonal touchdown by intercepting a pass and sprinting 25 yards to score in the final minutes of the fourth quarter.

Bill Lloyd led the Panthers to an exciting 35-27 victory over Guilford College in the annual Homecoming game on October 30. Lloyd contributed half of the Panther scoring efforts with three touchdown jaunts.

On November 13, the gridmen from E.C.T.C. went down in defeat as the Panthers piled up a 30-7 victory in Wilmington, N. C.

In spite of the efforts of H.P.C.'s big Glenn Painter, senior end, the Panthers were only able to wring a 12-12 tie from their nearby rival, the Elon Christians.

When the season ended for 1948, the Panthers totaled 5 wins, 3 losses, and 2 ties—not the best season in their many years of football history but an exciting one . . . a memorable one for the students who watched from the side lines.

A SEASONAL REVIEW

Following the trend in the weather, the red hot Panther basketball team of December and January became cold with the windy days of February. At the beginning of the season, the Panthers promised to be one of the best teams ever to grace the floors of Harrison gymnasium. Featuring the exciting two-platoon system set up by Coach Ralph James, the squad won ten out of its first thirteen games, the last seven being consecutive. This winning streak stopped soon, though, when the Panthers lost by the scholastic route three excellent performers, Leonard Hunt, Dave Martin, and Bob Draper.

It was then that the Panther fortunes began to drop. They lost to Catawba, a team they had previously beaten easily, by a margin of thirty points. From that night on, the Panthers were always contenders on the hardwood, but never regained the spark that marked them as the champs they were in early season play.

Four seniors donned the Purple and White for the last time against Lenoir Rhyne here on February 19, and added to their glory of past days by whipping the Bears, 59-55. They were "Mike" Moran, Hebron Coble, Bill Sheets, and Malcolm Sullivan.

Moran will long be remembered as one of the all-time stars in the history of basketball at High Point College. During his three years with the Panthers, he gained all-conference recognition three times and was always regarded as the man to stop in the Purple and White attack. Not only did he prove sensational in the offensive field but also he was regarded by opponents as the best rebound man in the conference.

Bill Sheets, the slim speedster from Winston-Salem, was feared for his deadly accuracy in hitting the basket. This year, he was used in both the forward and the guard slots and filled these positions well.

In Hebron Coble and Malcolm Sullivan, the Panthers boasted consistency and good ball handling. These two players seldom scored many points, but their excellent pass work set up many scores for their teammates.

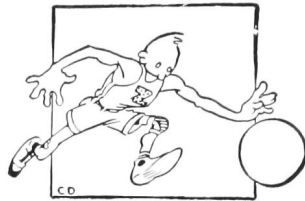

The Panthers met difficulty in the annual North State Conference Tournament, held in Elkin, N. C.,

February 24, losing to Lenoir Rhyne in a close game—55-49. Lenoir Rhyne gained in the first half a 15 point lead which the Jamesmen failed to overcome in the hectic second half. After defeating the Panthers, the Bears succeeded in winning the tournament championship.

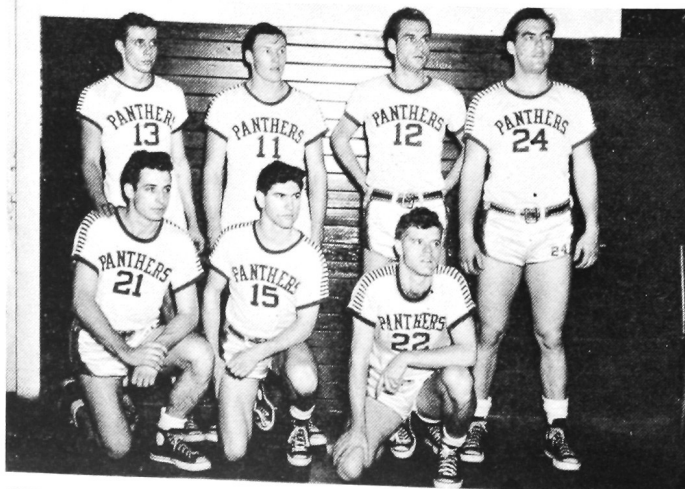

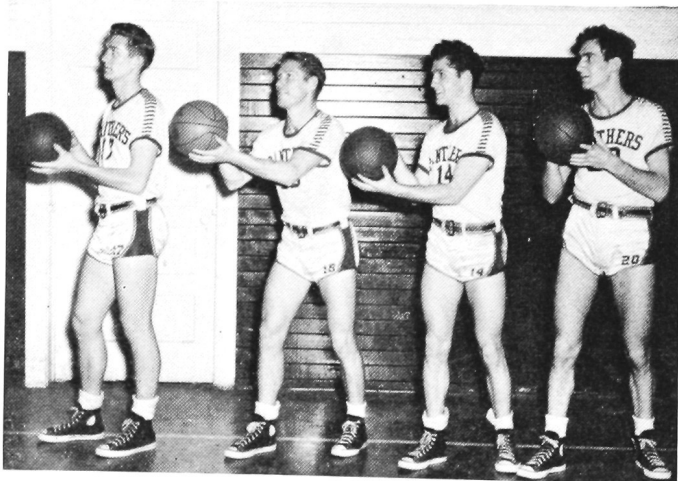

If his ineligible players regain their scholastic standing, Coach James should find an excellent squad to work with next year. Qualified guards will be Gray Cartwright, Leonard Hunt, Dave Martin, Dayton Crews, and Paul Pryor. Bill Waiz and Don Embler will return to man the forward spots along with Jerry Iscovitz and Albert Kozischeck. Bob Draper and Eddie Sueta, who showed excellent form in late season play, should vie for the position left open by Moran.

A transfer student, Jesse Joyce, will become eligible for play also next year and will aid the Panthers in any spot where Coach James chooses to place him. Joyce gained valuable experience in performing for Coach Bill Faircloth's Junior Varsity this season.

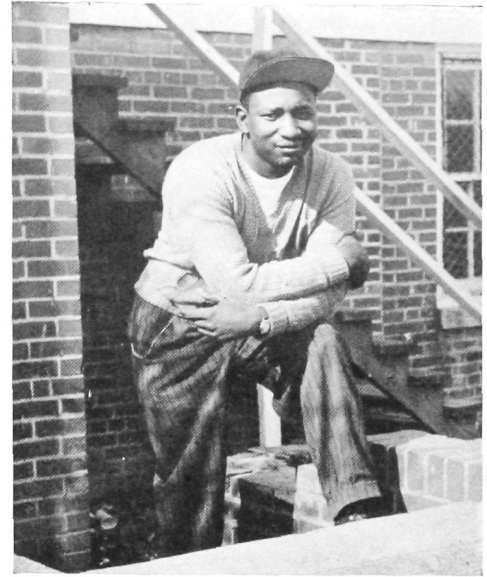

FORWARDS: Embler, Coble, Iscovitz, Waiz.

SOCCER

High Point College scored 25 goals while holding opponents to 12

With seven wins, three losses, and one tie, the 1948 soccer team completed an excellent year against some of the best teams in the South. The squad was led by All-American Hebron Coble, who served the double role of captain and coach.

Gray Cartwright, a second-year man, was one of the most valuable men on the team. His defensive play brought words of praise from all who saw him perform. The greatness of the squad, though, lay in its teamwork. Under the excellent guidance of Coble, the team triumphed over such large schools as Washington and Lee, Virginia, and Richmond Polytechnical Institute.

An outstanding achievement was the tying of the University of North Carolina. North Carolina was rated as one of the strongest teams in the East.

THE SQUAD

GOLF AND TENNIS

The golf and tennis teams began their schedules this year as favorites in the North State Conference. Both teams have held the championship of the conference for the past two years.

Golf

The golf team commenced the season with six lettermen: Erdman Auman, John Kupice, John Lowdermilk, Aaron Rice, "Rook" Sappenfield, and Malcolm Sullivan. The team was coached by Bill Faircloth

Tennis

Under the direction of its new coach, A. G. Paschall, the tennis team started its season, boasting twenty-eight wins in twenty-nine engagements in the past. The squad had three lettermen: Regis Glaesner, Henry Maddux, and Neil Maddux. The three remaining positions were expected to be filled by men graduating from the junior varsity, Fay Gilbert, Joe Melvin, and Bill Shatterly.

BASEBALL

As the ZENITH goes to press, the baseball prospects for 1949 look bright for Coach Ralph James. This year marks his fourth season at the helm of the Purple Panthers.

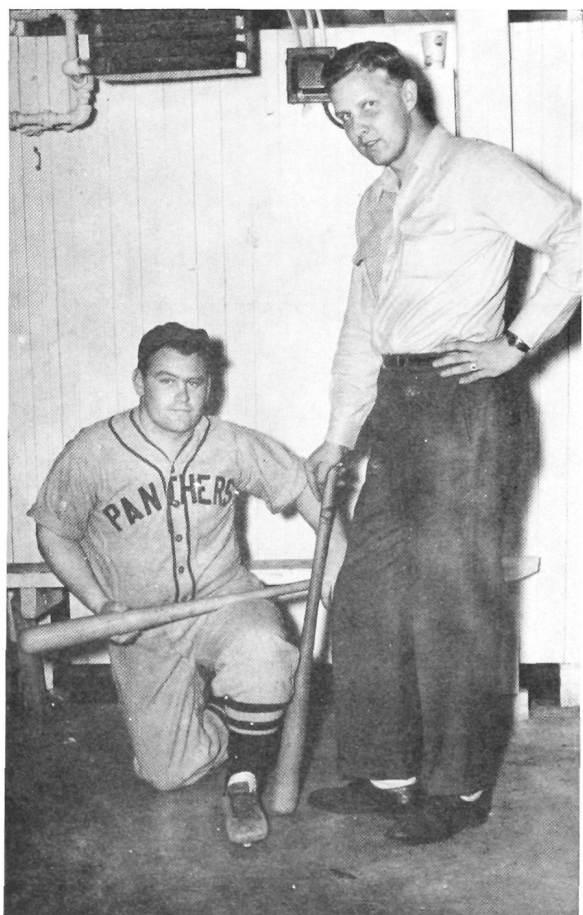

James will welcome back an experienced infield in the persons of Gray Cartwright, 1st base; Curt Bovender, 2nd base; Wayne Hoover, 3rd base; and Curt McDonald, short stop. The keystone combination of Bovender and McDonald provided many double plays for the Panthers last year and should be in the running for the most "twin-killings" in the North State Conference this spring.

The Panthers will miss the services of Jimmy Foxworth, leading moundsman of 1948, who turned professional last summer. The former Panther promises to develop into a top-flight professional ballplayer this season.

Coach James has two excellent prospects for developing his pitching staff around this spring in the persons of Bob Draper and Jimmy Swiggett. Both boys made outstanding records in high school, and James hopes to turn one or both into starters early in the season.

Last year the Jamesmen won half of their games, but they should do better this spring if the young pitchers come through as expected. The 1949 schedule shows 11 home games with 9 on the road, including 16 conference games, two matches with the potent McCrary Eagles, and one with Norfolk Navy.

Curt McDonald, second base; Truman Ferrell, manager.

WOMAN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Under the leadership of Miss Dorothy Arnette, physical education director for women, and Miss Ovida Lineberger, president, the Woman's Athletic Association has passed through another successful year.

To be eligible for membership in this organization, a girl must obtain one hundred points by participating in the required number of practices in one sport. Awards are given according to the number of points earned: 500 points, a numeral; 1000 points, a letter; 2000 points, a sweater. Since the founding of the Association, only a few girls have won a sweater; hence, this is a coveted award for all athletic-minded women. Several girls were eligible this year.

A girl is named each year to head one particular sport. She is chosen on the basis of ability and interest. It is her duty to see that equipment is available and that all interested girls get a chance to participate. The girls heading the various sports this year were as follows: "Inky" Gerringe, soccer; Marty Waesche, hockey; Clairene Gunn, volleyball; Betty Sinclair, basketball; Doris Pickler, softball; Margie Ingram, ping-pong; Fran Jackson, badminton; and "Inky" Gerringe, tennis.

Will we...

... keep our place in the world?

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA—first among nations in national income! First in production of wheat, corn, cotton, petroleum, coal, and iron! First in communications, in motor vehicles per capita—first in many essentials to good living and prosperity.

And directly related to that position of leadership is our standard of education—for it has been shown that a country's wealth and welfare rise along with its educational standards. And countries rich in natural resources can be poor and backward without the benefits of education.

Yes, the United States is a leader in the field of education too—but for how long? Appalling conditions prevail today in many of our schools. Many of our most brilliant teachers are working against odds—crowded classrooms, shortages of equipment and textbooks, long hours. . . . Thousands have left the profession for other work.

You, and every United States citizen, will suffer from this situation, because it cannot help affecting our national prosperity before long.

WHAT TO DO?

Today—make it your business to take these two steps: 1. Check up on educational conditions in your local schools; 2. Back up and work with organizations seeking to improve teachers' working and living conditions. For only by keeping our educational standards high can we hold our place in the world—and assure a prosperous future for our children.

Moving Forward with the South . . . .

The production of better type fabrics has grown to tremendous proportions in the South. Paralleling this outstanding progress made by the textile industry has been the resultant higher standard of living.

The High Point Weaving Plant and Hillcrest Throwing Plant are proud to be a part of this progress . . . proud to be a part of the Burlington Mills organization which has invested millions in the future of the South.

Burlington Mills' 83 plants have been able to reproduce the best possible products at the lowest possible prices. That's why over 28,000 employees are going forward with Burlington Mills.
